

Laura Teran, RDH from San Jose, California

was recognized for her dental health education project with Head Start children at the recent National Oral Health Conference held earlier this spring in Little Rock, Arkansas. Teran presented her project at the annual poster session and received third place honors at the awards reception. Teran has been completing her BSDH in the Eastern Tennessee online degree completion program. The Bachelor of Science in Dental Hygiene online program makes it possible for dental hygienists with associate's degrees to earn a bachelor's degree as they continue to practice their profession in their own communities. Students taking advantage of the program live as close to ETSU as Jonesborough, TN, and as far away as Hawaii. For more information on distance learning and degree completion programs click here

Left to Right
ADHA President Katie Dawson, Laura Teran, ADHA Executive Director Ann Battrell
ADHA Governmental Affairs Director Tim Lynch